English

Question Numbers 41 to 70

Questions 41-50 : Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow :

Knowledge of English was considered to be a sign of being elite. My father also believed in it and insisted that we should learn English from the lower classes onwards. So he ensured that we joined an English medium school. My brother and I were not happy about it, as we loved speaking in our mother tongue. But the rules at school did not permit us to use our mother tongue even in washrooms. I was a chatterbox at home. My brother was also like me. But, back at school, we remained mum. We feared English so much so that we assumed a grave expression when other children spoke to us.

It was then that our new English teacher took charge. She had a different style of teaching. Instead of going directly to the lesson, she started with songs and riddles. We started enjoying her classes. She never used tough words to communicate. Instead, she spoke to us using simple words that anyone could understand. She made us play games and slowly ward off the fear for English. Slowly I gathered confidence to speak in English without hesitation. During the Independence Day celebrations, our class presented an English skit on the Indian freedom struggle. I was assigned the role of Mahatma Gandhi. I was supposed to deliver a speech towards the end of the skit. The previous night I had learnt all my dialogues by heart. But, when I faced such a large audience, everything vanished from my mind. The images of my teacher and my parents rushed to my mind one after the other. I just managed to say, 'Jai Hind' instead of all the powerful dialogues that my teacher had taught.

Remorseful, I stepped out of the stage as I was sure my teacher would scold me. But, I saw her standing at the foot of the steps, arms open, smiling beautifully. When I started weeping, she said, "It's okay dear. You did well. I've also forgotten dialogues while acting. This is how we learn".
