Question Label: Comprehension

Read the following passage and answer the questions from 61-65. Choose the correct option for each question.

The curiosity which makes us come out of our room and leave our study when we hear uproar in the street holds mirror to our anxiety about our fellow beings, though verging on sentimentalism. Apart from that, this reduces the tedium of work, breaks the spell of boredom and engenders in us new energy, and we go back to our work with revitalized interest.

How curiosity develops our personality and intellect can be best known from the study of Wordsworth's and Shelley's lives. Wordsworth's curiosity led him to love nature. Whether it was the enigmatic sound of the cataract or the rustling of the leaves he fed his senses to satiety and gave us wonderful nature poems. Shelley who used to make startling experiments like an Indian magician expressed his love for what was not traditional. And his poems and life are only a vocal expression of his fondness for the unusual curiosity of Keats kindled by his first reading of Chapman's Homer made of him a poet of unique imagination so much so that the sight of a 'Grecian Urn' could inspire him to write a wonderful ode.

In fact much in literature and art is curiosity translated into singing words, immortal characters and wonderfully eloquent pigments or stones. It is, however, a different thing whether their curiosity to know and understand and to unravel the mysteries of human nature was idle or otherwise.
