Q.1 In this question, a statement is given followed by two courses of action, numbered I and II. You must assume everything in the statement to be true, and on the basis of the information given in the statement, decide which of the given courses of action logically follow(s) for pursuing.

Statement:

Rohan got poor marks in Mathematics in his Class 8 half-yearly examination.

Courses of action:

- I. Rohan should not study Mathematics.
- II. Rohan should devote more time to Mathematics and should also take help or tuition from some teacher.

- Ans ☒ 1. Only I follows.
- ☒ 2. Only II follows.
- ☒ 3. Neither I nor II follows.
- ☒ 4. Both I and II follow.

Q.3 15 is related to 70 following a certain logic. Following the same logic, 19 is related to 86.
To which of the given options is 24 related, following the same logic?

(NOTE: Operations should be performed on the whole numbers, without breaking down the numbers into their constituent digits. E.g. 13 – Operations on 13 such as adding to/subtracting from/multiplying with 13 can be performed. Breaking down 13 into 1 and 3 and then performing mathematical operations on 1 and 3 is not allowed.)

- Ans ☒ 1. 47
☒ 2. 106
☒ 3. 108
☒ 4. 96

Comprehension:

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Time plays a crucial role in our lives, how we go about our days, and how societies function as a whole. Different cultures have their own unique ways of looking at and measuring time, which influences how they see the world and live their lives.
In the Western world, time is often thought of as moving in a straight line—from the past, through the present, and into the future. This way of thinking influences how we place importance on schedules, deadlines, and looking back at history to move forward.
On the flip side, many indigenous cultures see time as cyclical, focusing on the repeating patterns in nature and life. This cycle-based view is evident in rituals, farming practices, and storytelling that respects the past while getting ready for what's ahead.
Moreover, each person experiences time in their own way, with it sometimes feeling like it's flying by or dragging on, depending on factors like age, emotions, and what we are up to.
When science comes into play, things get even more interesting. Einstein's theory of relativity shows us that time isn't always a steady constant but can change based on how fast you're going or how strong gravity is. This scientific angle challenges our traditional ideas of time being fixed and unchanging by highlighting just how intricate and diverse time really is.

When science comes into play, things get even more interesting. Einstein's theory of relativity shows us that time isn't always a steady constant but can change based on how fast you're going or how strong gravity is. This scientific angle challenges our traditional ideas of time being fixed and unchanging by highlighting just how intricate and diverse time really is.

Comprehension:

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Time plays a crucial role in our lives, how we go about our days, and how societies function as a whole. Different cultures have their own unique ways of looking at and measuring time, which influences how they see the world and live their lives. In the Western world, time is often thought of as moving in a straight line—from the past, through the present, and into the future. This way of thinking influences how we place importance on schedules, deadlines, and looking back at history to move forward. On the flip side, many indigenous cultures see time as cyclical, focusing on the repeating patterns in nature and life. This cycle-based view is evident in rituals, farming practices, and storytelling that respects the past while getting ready for what's ahead. Moreover, each person experiences time in their own way, with it sometimes feeling like it's flying by or dragging on, depending on factors like age, emotions, and what we are up to. When science comes into play, things get even more interesting. Einstein's theory of relativity shows us that time isn't always a steady constant but can change based on how fast you're going or how strong gravity is. This scientific angle challenges our traditional ideas of time being fixed and unchanging by highlighting just how intricate and diverse time really is.
