Direction (Q. Nos. 1 to 10) : Read the following two passages and answer the questions that follow each passage. Your answers to these questions should be based on the passages only.

Passage – 1

Indian philosophical and religious thought can be classified into Brahmanik and Shramanik traditions. Brahmanik tradition traces its origin to the Vedas. Shramanik traditions do not believe in the authority of the Vedas. While Brahmanik tradition does not advocate renunciation, Shramanik tradition favours asceticism for the attainment of emancipation from the misery of the cycle of birth and death.

Buddhism and Jainism belong to the Shramanik tradition. There were many other Shramanik traditions called Aajivkaas which either vanished with the passage of time or, like Sankhya-yoga, merged themselves into the Brahmanik tradition.

The founder of Buddhism Gautam Buddha (563-483 BC) and the expounder of the present form of Jainism Mahavira (599-527 BC) though contemporaries who dwelt in the same region, namely Magadha, had never met. By the time Gautam Buddha left his home at the age of twenty-nine, Mahavira was sixty-nine years of age.

Buddhism and Jainism originated and flourished in India almost at the same time under the patronage of powerful emperors of the time. Buddhism enjoyed the patronage of Ashoka (Third Century BC) and Kanishka (First Century AD) who spread it across their empire and helped it spread outside India, especially its border states.

Jainism too enjoyed the patronage of Chandragupta Maurya (Early Fourth Century BC), Kharvela (Second Century BC) and Kumarapala (Twelfth Century AD), they did not proselytize Jainism outside the boundaries of their empires.

However, with the passage of time around 1200 AD, after the advent of Shankaracharya, though Buddhism was completely uprooted from India, it became a world religion. While Jainism flourished in India, till about past few decades, it remained confined to India. The primary reason for the opposite fates of Jainism and Buddhism was the nature of their inherent doctrines.

The primary reason for the uproot of Buddhism from India was that it did not prescribe any code of conduct for the layman. In it there is detailed code of conduct for the bhikhus and bhikkunis residing in the Buddha Viharas but there is no prescribed rules and regulations of conduct for the laity.

Buddhism preached the abandonment of the extremes, and adoption of the middle path. It recommended moderation in the moral conduct, flexibility in the food habits and management of day-to-day affairs of the bhikkhus (monks) and bhikkunis (nuns), thus allowing them to be adaptable to the alien ways of life and religions.

Jain monks and sadhavis, on the other hand, had to strictly follow the Mahavratas (vows). In practicing the Mahavratas, the monks had to follow the rules of conduct originally prescribed for them in the Agama granthas without any exception or laxity. Right conduct for Jainas 'is to adopt the rules of discipline prescribed in the Jaina agamas'. It is difficult for an outsider to grasp, much less follow, this extreme adherence to the vows by the Jainas.

1. Shramanik tradition :

- (A) Believe in the authority of the Vedas
- (B) Do not believe in the authority of the Vedas
- (C) Is indifferent to Vedas
- (D) Is not a part of the Indian Philosophy

2. Shankaracharya uprooted from India :

- (A) Buddhism
- (B) Jainism
- (C) Brahmanism

3. Buddhism has a code of conduct for :

- (A) Both for common man and for bhikkhus and bhikkunis
- (B) Neither for common man nor for bhikkhus and bhikkunis
- (C) Common man but not for bhikkhus and bhikkunis

(D) Not for common man but for bhikkhus and bhikkunis

4. Which one of the following is true ?

- (A) Both Jainism and Buddhism flourished in India alone
- (B) Both Buddhism and Jainism flourished abroad
- (C) Jainism flourished in India and Buddhism flourished abroad
- (D) Buddhism flourished in India and Jainism flourished abroad

5. Which one of the following is correct ?

- (A) Both Buddhism and Jainism allow flexibility in following the rules of conduct
- (B) Jainism allows flexibility in following the rules of conduct, but Buddhism does not
- (C) Jainism does not allow flexibility in following the rules of conduct but Buddhism does
- (D) Both Buddhism and Jainism do not allow flexibility in following the rules of conduct

Passage – 2

The notion of Swadeshi occupies a pivotal place in Gandhi's thought and practices. The centrality of the notion of Swadeshi can be gauged from the fact that Gandhi believed that the way to Swaraj is through the practice of Swadeshi. He upheld that if we adopt Swadeshi not only in the economic, but also in the educational, religious and political arenas, we would be able to establish an equitable and just social order.

Gandhi does not use 'Swadeshi' in its literal sense viz., 'of one's own country' alone. According to him Swadeshi does not mean merely the use of what is produced in one's own country. Swadeshi actually means reliance on our own strength. 'Our strength' means the strength of our body, our mind and our soul. So, Swadeshi operates not only in the physical realm but it is also a spiritual principle.

While negatively Swadeshi means that the foreign goods should not be purchased at the peril of goods produced indigenously ; positively it means that we should collectively apply 'our brains to the production of things as a substitute for foreign materials' or refining the indigenous goods and services. Swadeshi does not mean exclusion of everything foreign under every conceivable circumstance.

The principle of Swadeshi is not based on narrow patriotism. Swadeshi is a nationalist humanitarian principle because it strives for the welfare of whole humanity. Only he who cares for his neighbour has the right to say : 'All are kin to me.'

Swadeshi is not a punitive or revengeful vow, rather it is a religious duty. It is not a vrata that is aimed at harming anyone, including oneself. It is a principle which aims at the improvement and benefit of all. A Swadeshist has to voluntarily adhere to the principle of self-denial of refined goods at the cost of personal inconvenience. He has to make conscientious and persistent effort to improve the quality of goods produced in his country. Let me conclude by saying that Swadeshi as a global practice, will one day, improve the quality of goods and unite the whole world and make every nation self-reliant, atmanirbhar.

6. According to Gandhiji :

- (A) Swaraj cannot be achieved through Swadeshi
- (B) Swaraj and Swadeshi are not related
- (C) Swaraj can be achieved only through Swadeshi
- (D) Swadeshi can be achieved through Swaraj

7. The principle of Swadeshi operates :

- (A) Only in the physical realm
- (B) Only in the spiritual realm

- (C) Neither in the physical nor in the spiritual realm
- (D) In the physical as well as in the spiritual realms

8. The principle of Swadeshi is based on :

- (A) Narrow patriotic principle
- (B) Harming our enemies
- (C) Humanitarian principle
- (D) The principle of doing good to our distant neighbours at the cost of our next door neighbours

Passage – 1

The Shah of Persia had heard of Birbal's intelligence and he wrote to Emperor Akbar requesting that Birbal be allowed to visit his Court. Akbar was pleased because he was extremely proud of Birbal, and sent him to the Persian court in all splendor.

As soon as Birbal reached the Persian capital, the Shah sent for him. When he reached the royal audience chamber, he saw a semi-circular arrangement of seats. In each of them was a well-dressed regal figure and all of them were dressed exactly alike. Anyone of them could have been the Shah of Persia. Birbal stopped for a while, then looked keenly, went and bowed to the real Shah.

Taken aback by this, the Shah of Persia listened to Birbal's flowery address and replied in the same flowery language. Then he asked, "Your Majesty ! When I looked round, I found everyone looking at you. Only you did not look at anyone. I knew at once who the real Shah of Persia was." The Shah bestowed upon Birbal the title Ocean of Intelligence by which men knew him ever after.

Passage – 2

The greatest enemy of mankind, as people have discovered is not science, but war. Science merely reflects the prevailing social forces. It is found that when there is peace, science is constructive, when there is war, and science is perverted to destructive ends. The weapons which science gives us do not necessarily cause war, they make war increasingly terrible. Till now, it has brought us to the doorstep of doom. Our main problem, therefore, is not to curb science, but to stop war – to substitute law for force, international government for anarchy in the relations of one nation with another. That is a job in which everybody must participate, including the scientists. The fact that we have very little time. The hour is late and our work has scarcely begun. Now we are face to face with an urgent question – can education and tolerance, understanding and create intelligence run fast enough to keep us abreast with our own mounting capacity to destroy ? That is the question we shall have to answer one way or the other in this generation. Science must help us in arriving at the answer, but the main decision lies within ourselves.

76. According to the writer, the real enemy of mankind is not science, but war because :
